

HOOK

A strong image starts before the prompt.

Art direction is a sequence of decisions.

CONTEXT / FRICTION

The brief was too open.

“Regal executive portrait” leaves key choices unresolved.

- Who is in frame?
- What shapes the light?
- Which materials carry the mood?

FRAMEWORK MECHANICS

Give every instruction a job.

Build the image in four layers.

01 SUBJECT

Who is present and how

02 SETTING

The architectural world

03 LIGHT

Direction and contrast

SUBJECT / FRAME / LIGHT / FINISH

04 FINISH

Texture and realism

DEEP DIVE / IMPLEMENTATION

Direct the contrast.

Velvet absorbs light. Brushed metal returns it.

Warm key from camera left. Cool rim separates the figure.

MATERIAL

Velvet absorbs light. Brushed bronze returns it.

PRODUCTION OUTPUT

The brief becomes testable.

Check the result against the decisions you made.

VERIFY

Inspect the portrait against the original art direction.

- ☐ Posture reads as composed
- ☐ Light has a clear direction
- ☐ Materials behave differently

GOVERNANCE / RULES

Keep the brief. Record the changes.

A polished image is one candidate.

- Save prompt and tool version
- Log material deviations
- Approve the final use

WORKING STATUS

Concept brief. Generated visual. No model comparison claimed.
